Tessie Hill
Legendary Gospel Singer

WHEREAS, We, the members of the Detroit City Council, join the family and friends of Mrs. Tessie Hill in honoring her life and musical legacy. Detroit and the gospel music industry lost a legend when Tessie Hill made her heavenly transition. We pause to offer sincere condolences to her surviving five children, Brenda Hill, twins Dr. Fairest Hill and Ferrell Hill-Richardson, Jacqueline Moore and Elder Reginald L. Hill; three grandchildren who she raised as her own, Nicole Hill, Tiffany Tomlin and Jermaine Hill; and 10 other grandchildren. Three children and five siblings preceded her in death; and

WHEREAS, Tessie Hill was born on October 9, 1934, in Monroe, GA. At the age of eight, her family moved to Detroit, where she began singing in the choir at Polk Street Church of God in Christ. At an early age she married the late Elder Lonnie B. Hill, who founded The Original Church of God in Christ (COGIC) in 1960. The church choir, with Tessie Hill singing lead, was signed to Savoy Records in 1964. In 1975, Tessie Hill signed with Hobbs Record Label and recorded her first solo album, "Beams of Heaven." The following year she moved to Peacock Records, now known as ABC Records. There Tessie Hill was a trailblazer because she recorded several gospel albums that were considered contemporary for gospel music. Several hits came from her recordings produced by Eddie Robinson and Sylvia Moy -- songs like, "I Must Tell Jesus," "Don't Forget to Remember," "Leave It in the Hands of the Lord," and others. But the song "Great Things," from the self-titled album, "Tessie Hill," that was added just to fill space, would become the biggest and most noteworthy song of her career; and

WHEREAS, The song, "Great Things," earned Tessie Hill national recognition, as the song helped open the door for Contemporary Gospel music. And, she was one of the first gospel artists to be played on secular radio. "Great Things," crossed over into areas of popular music, propelling Tessie Hill's music sales and earning her a Gold Album and "Artist of the Year Award" by Record World magazine. In 1978, Record World magazine named Tessie Hill its "Top Female Gospel Artist"; and

WHEREAS, She shifted her life's focus in 1981 due to her husband's cancer diagnosis and subsequent death in 1983. But, a few years later, Tessie Hill pursued recording again only to find that the music industry's taste in gospel music had changed and now catered to songs that did not include God's name. However, her ministry, built on the foundation and principle of God's promises, would not be compromised. In 1991 and 1997, Tessie Hill faced her own major health challenges. But her faith remained strong, God showed up, and she was healed. In 1998, Tessie Hill's producer, Eddie Robinson, called her to work on a new project and they picked up right where they left off many years before. In 2006, she recorded the appropriately-named CD, "It's Me Again." In 2010 she released "Stepping Out." And, in 2017, Tessie Hill recorded a song with her son, Dr. Fairest Hill; and

WHEREAS, Throughout her career, Tessie Hill was known for fashion that was just as bold as her voice. When asked about her style, she once said, "I want to look like I sound." She also said, "I won't retire. When God calls me and says, 'Well done,' that's when it will be over, and then I'll probably be up there singing with the angels." And, on July 28, 2019, God said, "Well done, Tessie Hill, come sing with the angels." NOW, THEREFORE BE IT

RESOLVED, That the Detroit City Council and office of Council President Brenda Jones, join with family and friends in honoring the life and musical legacy of Mrs. Tessie Hill. Her songs will live on forever!
